PLAGUE REGULATIONS IN FORCE IN THE PRESENT TOWN.

Art. 155—Whereas certain parts of the Presidency of Madras are visited by, and the City of Madras is threatened with, an outbreak of the dangerous epidemic disease known as plague, and whereas the ordinary provisions of the law for the time being in force in the City are insufficient for the purpose of preventing the outbreak or spread of the disease:

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 2-A of the Epidemic Disease Act, 1887, as amended by the Amendment Act XXXVIII of 1900, the Local Government are pleased to prescribe, in supersession of all regulations previously made on the subject, the following temporary regulations to be observed in the City of Madras for a period of five years from the 1st day of October 1902:—

(1) The Local Government may, by notification, in the Port St. George Gazette, declare the City of Madras or any portion thereof in which one or more indigenous cases of plague have occurred, or in which the existence of plague among rats has been proved, to be infected with plague. In similar circumstances the Commissioner of the Corporation may notify by notice sent by publication in the local papers that the City or any portion thereof is infected with plague, informing the Government forthwith of the fact that he has done so.

(2) When the City or any portion of it has been declared under the preceding regulations to be infected, or when any area adjoining the City has under regulation 2 of the regulations, as from time to time the Presidency town have been declared infected, the Commissioner may close any existing market and may appoint special places where markets may be held and may prohibit trading beyond which it shall not be lawful for persons bringing articles for sale from or to an infected area to pass.

(3) In any portion of the City which has been declared infected the Commissioner or the Health Officer with the previous sanction of the Commissioner may order the evacuation of infected houses and houses in their neighbourhood, or generally of any infected locality.

Provided that, before issuing or authorizing an order for compulsory evacuation, the Commissioner shall either provide adequate and suitable shelter within reasonable distance for the persons evicted together with the necessary water-supply and arrangements for wash and food, or shall satisfy himself that such shelter and water-supply have been provided by private agency. The Commissioner shall also satisfy himself that the compulsory evacuation is necessary to avert the further spread of the disease, or is in the interests of the affected population taking account of climatic conditions.

The Commissioner may require all persons who vacate their houses voluntarily, or are evicted under this regulation, to reside in such place as he may appoint.

Nothing contained in this rule shall be deemed to apply to persons who have been successfully inoculated against plague during the nine months prior to the declaration of a locality being infected or who get themselves inoculated within 24 hours of such declaration.

(4) In any portion of the City which has been declared infected the Commissioner may enter upon, occupy and use or may depute any person to enter upon, occupy and use without having recourse to the provisions of the Local Authorities Act, 1894, any building or place which is required for, and is, in the opinion of the Health Officer suitable for, any purpose connected with plague measures; provided that, if the building or place is occupied, twenty-four hours' notice in writing shall be given to the owner or shall be conspicuously affixed on such building or place. The owner or the lessee of such building or place shall be entitled to a reasonable rent to be fixed by the Commissioner for the period during which the ground or building may be used for purposes connected with plague; and the Commissioner shall, when any building enters to be so used, cause it to be thoroughly cleaned and, if the owner so desires, whitewashed internally and externally.

(5) If the Commissioner is of opinion that the destruction of any lot or shed is necessary to prevent the spread of plague, he may take summary measures for the destruction of such lot or shed and of the materials of which it is constructed.

(6) The Commissioner may direct that any dwelling house or any landing place or any godown or any place used for the storage of grain shall be inspected and that all rats found therein shall be destroyed; and to facilitate the destruction of rats may order the temporary removal of any grain or other merchandise.

(7) The Commissioner may direct that at any place in the City any remission of grain, being conveyed by rail, road or otherwise, shall be examined, and shall, if necessary, be unloaded and exposed to the sun in such manner and for such period as he may see fit.

(8) Every householder and every medical practitioner shall at once report to the Health Officer any case of plague or any case of fever with glandular swellings or any unusual mortality among rats which may cause his notice.

(9) In the absence of a written contract to the contrary, every inspector, medical practitioner, coolie, messenger or other manual labourer employed to do duty in connection with plague, shall be entitled to one month's leave before discharge, or to one month's wages in lieu thereof, unless he is discharged for misconduct or was engaged for a specified term and is discharged at the end of it. Similarly every supplier of goods shall be entitled to one month's notice before his supplies are discontinued.

(ii) No such inspector, maid, post, watchman, miller, stanger or other manual servant shall, in the absence of a written contract authorizing him to do so, and without reasonable excuse, resign his employment or absent himself from his duties without giving one month's notice or shall neglect or refuse to perform any of his duties. In like manner no supplier of molasses or other material or services shall withdraw his molasses or services without giving one month's notice.

(10) When in consequence of the exercise of the powers conferred by or under these regulations any property is damaged or destroyed, the Commissioner shall pay to the owner by way of compensation, such sum as he may consider sufficient to cover the cost of repairing the damage or replacing the property destroyed.

Item—(1) The Police Regulations being herein formally made and issued by Government under the Highway Ordinance Act, no provision is required in a resolution passed in pursuance thereof.

(2) By Government Order No. 491, dated 25th November 1920, all seats in the Malabar District have been directed to stay the Police Regulations, and any appointment of a person to a duty under the Police Regulations has been directed to be null and void. By Government Order No. 11, dated 24th November 1920, that any appointment of a person to a duty under the Police Regulations shall be null and void. By Government Order No. 11, dated 24th November 1920, that any appointment of a person to a duty under the Police Regulations shall be null and void. In this respect the amenability of the people on the various following on inspection of a village and talking over with them, the confidence found may be of utility. [Tuberculosis—Note by the Director, Tuberculosis Institute—Published for general information.]

No. 790.—The appended note on 'Employees and Tuberculosis' drawn up by the Director, Tuberculosis Institute, Madras, is published for general information.

APPENDIX.

EMPLOYEES AND TUBERCULOSIS.

Note by the Director, Tuberculosis Institute, Madras.

In the course of my tuberculosis work, I have come across cases of patients suffering from tuberculosis whose services were dispensed with though they happened to be not infectious. The number of tuberculous people is very large in this city. As equally wide distribution might be assumed for the Presidency.

My own impression is that the disease is spreading on a larger scale than in other times. Tuberculosis is an easily curable disease in its early stage and people suffering from early tuberculosis must be encouraged to resort to properly qualified medical help in time, so that the disease might be cured or arrested. The most important step in the prevention of this disease is the care of the service men so that we might keep down the number of open and advanced cases of pulmonary tuberculosis which only serve as the foci for the spread of the disease.

For this purpose it is not only essential that sufficient facilities should exist for treatment but also that the people should be encouraged to resort as early as possible for treatment and should not be deterred from fear of losing their job if the heads of the office happen to know that they are tuberculous.

There has been a scare on the part of many people in this country that every form of tuberculosis is infectious.

Tuberculosis, even of the lungs, is not infectious unless bacilli are found in the sputum.

There is a fact of which even our medical graduates are not fully cognizant.

There is a G.O. No. 839, L. & M. (Madras), dated 24th August 1917, which has been misunderstood. As the Government Order is published together with the previous correspondence leading to it, it has been misapprehended at times.

Tuberculosis is not infectious like typhoid fever or venereal disease.

Not only the heads of all Government offices but also the heads of firms and workshops should understand that only pulmonary tuberculosis in the advanced stages are infectious and even then mainly to young people working in close contact with the consumptive.

Tuberculosis may be surgical affecting the lungs, joints, glands, etc., or pulmonary.

Surgical tuberculosis might be considered as not infectious for all practical purposes and pulmonary tuberculosis is not infectious in the early closed stages, while it is infectious in the open and advanced stages.

For all practical purposes tuberculosis may be considered as not infectious unless bacilli are found in the sputum. A Government servant should be treated only when suffering from advanced tuberculosis. He should not be retired, except on a medical certificate, stating that bacilli bacilli are found in the sputum.

It is quite possible in the confusion for a medical man to diagnose advanced pulmonary tuberculosis though he may not have a microscope with him. Under such circumstances, the head of the office should be assured that he is infectious and that bacilli are found in the sputum must be shown on the District Medical Officer who is sure to keep a microscope with him in his office.
